

LUKE MARQUIS

'Blue Eyed Boy'

Luke Marquis is an integral part of the sales team at Mollydooker Wines and is the son of Sarah Marquis, Owner and Chief Winemaker.

At the ripe young age of 10, he was affectionately named the Blue Eyed Boy, which has now become one of Mollydooker's successful Shiraz labels.

After finishing school, Luke traveled around the world and then began his journey at Mollydooker working in the vineyards. This is where he learnt Mollydooker's trademarked technique, The Marquis Vineyard Watering Program™ which is responsible for creating the WOW in our wines. He also loved any chance to host many of our International visitors, who were often impressed with his amazing knowledge of the business at such a young age.

With a natural ability to engage with people, he now holds the position of Global Sales Manager and is based in North America, where he is responsible for our US market and oversees our sales team in the Australian and Rest of World markets. Luke's enthusiasm for the Mollydooker brand is what equips him to continue driving sales and relationships with our customers, all around the world.

Luke, who is much like his Mum, loves the thrill of life and speed. During his teens he became a National Go Kart Champion and then raced in the Australian Formula Ford series. Now his love is to travel the world going to music festivals, competing in triathlons, playing soccer and hitting a round of golf!
